

Ghassan Jamaledine

Chief Medical Officer

---

In his role as Chief Medical Officer, Dr. Jamaledine oversees the clinical operation that includes the quality of care and patient safety, coordination of clinical care, development of clinical information systems, and physician engagement in strategic initiatives. He also plays a key role in the clinical leadership and further development of Alameda Health Partners, the health system's physician organization. Dr. Jamaledine comes to AHS from New York City Health + Hospital/ Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn, New York.

He received his medical degree from the American University of Beirut in 1985. He conducted his residency training in Internal Medicine in SUNY/Downstate Medical Center and a fellowship in Pulmonary Critical Care at NY Hospital Cornell University. After working for three years in the Brooklyn VA Hospital, he moved to the American University of Beirut in 1995 and became the Chief of Pulmonary and Critical Care in 2000. During his tenure, he built a state of the art division with a fellowship program fulfilling the American training requirement.

In 2007, he moved back to New York and began work at Kings County Hospital as the Director of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine. In 2010, he became the Chief of Medicine and, in 2013, advanced to the position of Chief Medical Officer. During his tenure at Kings County, he mentored and coached many physicians and introduced several changes that lead to major improvements in the safety and quality of care.

Dr. Jamaledine is known for his uncompromising patient advocacy, team building, improving and expanding medical education and raising the level of interdisciplinary communication between services. At Kings County, he was the recipient of the Teacher of the Year Award, the Nursing Physician of the Year Award and HHC/Kings County Physician of the Year Award.

In addition, Dr. Jamaledine has served as Associate Professor of Medicine and Clinical Associate Dean for the State University of New York (SUNY) Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, NY. He has also contributed to medical literature with multiple publications in his discipline. He is Board Certified in Internal Medicine, Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine.

Contact

Alameda Health System
1411 E 31st Street
Oakland, CA 94602
AlamedaHealthSystem.org
(510) 754-9897

About AHS

Alameda Health System (AHS) is a major public health care provider and medical training institution recognized for its world-class patient and family centered system of care.