General Counsel

Mike Moye joined Alameda Health System (AHS) as General Counsel in 2016. In this role, Mr. Moye oversees all legal services related to AHS operations and advises leadership on health care, regulatory, public agency, strategic business planning and complex labor and employment matters. In addition to his role on the Executive Team, Mr. Moye manages the Office of the General Counsel, provides administrative oversight for the Internal Audit and Compliance departments, oversees collaboration with outside counsel, and manages litigation involving AHS.

Mr. Moye's experience includes 20 years with Bay Area law firm Hanson Bridgett LLP. As a partner at Hanson Bridgett, Mike served as Chair of the Labor and Employment Section and his practice included representation of public and private employers throughout California ranging from start-ups and non-profits to Fortune 500 companies. He established himself as an independent investigator trusted by public and private organizations to handle sensitive fact-finding and investigative matters. He also provided counseling and extensive training for employers in areas such as state and federal labor/employment laws, breach of contract, and negotiation/interpretation of collective bargaining agreements.

Beginning in January 2015, Mr. Moye was appointed Interim General Counsel for AHS and provided legal service to the AHS Board of Trustees and the Executive Leadership Team until his regular appointment in April 2016.

Mr. Moye has been recognized by his peers as a "Super Lawyer" for the quality of his legal practice and by the bar association of San Francisco and local law schools for his efforts to increase diversity in the legal profession. Mr. Moye serves on the Board of Directors of the Alameda County Community Food Bank and is a former member of the Oakland Museum of California Board of Trustees, the Board of Directors of the Bar Association of San Francisco, and the Executive Committee of the Bar Association of San Francisco, Labor and Employment Law Section.

Mr. Moye holds a Juris Doctor from the University of California, Los Angeles and a Bachelor of Science from the United States Military Academy.
